

No She Didn't...

Oh Yes She Did!

SAMANTHA MUETING

A WOMAN

A Survivor, A Leader, An Innovator

A Chief Executive, A Mother, A Speaker, An Author, & Servant of the Lord!

When I was starting in the professional world, there were very few women pushing on the proverbial ceilings, worse the ones that were up there were not reaching back down to pull other aspiring woman up. It was as if it was a huge secret, rest assured there were some back room deals, but WOW RIGHT!!

CONSIDER THAT CHANGED, THE MOLD BROKEN - Join me and many others for a fantastic day of Woman Empowerment.

"At the end of the day it is about who can execute consistently, in diverse geographies while staying in front of what the client needs. I have always managed global operations through empowered local expertise and talent. Empowering people first is the key! I believe it does take a team, an empowered, validated & connected team," Samantha Mueting.
